- ²⁸ Ohio Department of Youth Services, Division of Parole & Community Services, Youth Adjudicated for Felony Offenses, 2006. This shows the number of youth adjudicated for felony offenses in each county. This is based on self-reported information from the juvenile courts and only counts a youth once per fiscal year, regardless of the number of felony adjudications that the youth had.
- ²⁹ Ohio Department of Youth Services, Division of Parole & Community Services, DYS Commitments and Revocations. 2005. This shows the number of youth committed to DYS, broken down by new commitments, revocations and total. A revocation occurs when a youth on parole violates the terms of his or her court order and the parole is revoked. Unlike new commitments, there is not a new felony offense leading to commitment.
- ³⁰ Ohio Department of Youth Services, Division of Parole & Community Services, RECLAIM Ohio Payments to Counties, 2005 and 2006. RECLAIM Ohio is a subsidy that provides funds to juvenile courts to purchase or operate community programs for youth. These funds are allocated by statutory formula based on each county's number of youth adjudicated for felony offenses and the number of charged bed days a county uses in DYS or at a CCF. This provides an incentive for juvenile courts to divert youth to community programs.
